Alliance adds Richmond to Data Center Operations

Hanover, MD, March 14, 2011 – Alliance Technology Group (Alliance-IT.com), a leading Systems Integrator and IT Solutions Company specializing in IT Infrastructure, Cloud Computing and Professional Services, today announced the addition of the Richmond, VA location to their Data Center operations.

Alliance data centers are designed and built with reliability, redundancy and resiliency that provides dependable mission-critical IT operations to support the highest level of security for off-site hosted computing and managed IT services. Alliance Technology Group currently operates a data center site with over 40 IT practitioners in Duluth, GA. The new Richmond data center location will allow Alliance to better serve our customers and the Federal market which currently comprises 50% of the company's current business.

"Alliance provides carrier grade and domestic based data center infrastructure to support our client's off-premise hosted computing strategies," explained Mike Ratti, Vice President, Cloud Computing Group for Alliance. "Corporate IT needs a partner who can provide the highest levels of security for off-premise hosted computing while provided the expertise to support tailored managed services that can integrate and coexist with existing on-premise environments," added Ratti.

Alliance's Data Center Operations are designed for clients who require a dedicated hosted computing environment and exclusive provisioning for data security, network performance, and uptime. Alliance data center operations provide the following:

Tier 3+ Data Centers	24 x 7 Monitored
SAS 70 Audited (SSAE-16 pending)	24 x 7 Manned Security
Top 1% Infrastructure Footprint	100% Power Uptime
Independent Power Generation	99.99% Internet Uptime
Multi Power Grids	Main Data Center – Atlanta, GA , Richmond VA
Hot Back-Up Site: Raleigh, NC	10 "Warm" Sites: National (domestic) Footprint
